Grown, not made.

The brand strategy for a Nile Delta loofah and Levantine laurel soap, renewed every 60 days. Brand, products, bundles and go-to-market in one place.

WHY WE EXIST

Bring the honesty of the hammam back to the everyday shower.

STORY

A vegetable from Damanhour, finished like a luxury object. Gourds ripen on Nile Delta trellises, dry 21 days in the sun, and travel to the Gulf with Levantine laurel soap.

MISSION

Put a traceable, plastic-free bath ritual in every GCC home, renewed every 60 days. Measured by renewals, not first orders.

FEELING

Grounded, cared-for, quietly in the know. Never smug, never preachy.

The premium-natural corner is empty

No brand owns the loofah itself as a premium, traceable object.
Hypermarkets sell AED 8–24 mitts; heritage soap houses sell gift boxes.
Nobody sells a renewable ritual.

THE BEHAVIOUR

Loofahs are kept far too long. A built-in renewal cue is a hygiene benefit and a business model.

THE MATERIAL

Nile Delta Luffa aegyptiaca: dense fibre, 8–12 weeks of life, dries fast. Asian varieties break down in 3–5.

THE MARKET

Global loofah market USD 2.03 bn (2024), growing 5.6% a year to 2031. Over 41% of GCC natural accessory sales are online.

HERO COLOUR: NILE SILT, IN A CATEGORY FULL OF GREEN

ONE IDEA

The hammam, every morning.

CORE

The Duo

Loofah and Sabon Ghar made to work together.

TRUST

Know where it grew

Batch QR: farm, harvest month, Grade A fibre.

HYGIENE

Know when to renew

A cotton tag that fades by day 60, and a fresh one ships.

PLANET

Nothing plastic

Compostable loofah; the box becomes a shower caddy.

TAGLINE · GROWN, NOT MADE.

Exact visuals, copy that smiles

English first, British spelling, no exclamation marks, numerals for numbers.
Arabic appears as one meaningful word in Ruqaa, never a translation.

TRAIT	MEANS	WE SAY	WE NEVER SAY
Specific	Numbers and places persuade	“Sun-dried for 21 days in Damanhour.”	“Ethically sourced from exotic lands.”
Dry wit	One light twist per piece	“Yes, it’s a vegetable. No, don’t cook it.”	“Get scrubbin’, loofah lovers!”
Generous	Teach the ritual and the why	“Hang it to dry. Dry fibre lasts longer.”	“Revolutionary exfoliation tech.”
Unhurried	Short sentences, no urgency tricks	“Your tag is fading. A fresh one ships Tuesday.”	“HURRY! Only 3 left!”

CAMPAIGN LINE · WHEN THE TAG FADES, SO SHOULD YOUR LOOFAH.

Aref Ruqaa

One Arabic word per layout, chosen for meaning.

Everything passes through the Window

A centred 3:4 oval, the wordmark and a three-fact spec rail. One subject, one warm light from the left, one hard shadow, 30% empty. Hands, never faces.

KRAFT BOARD · OVAL WINDOW · COTTON FADE TAG · BASALT GIFT CHEST

Three loofahs, two soaps

A tight range: every piece has one clear job. Each loofah carries a fading cotton tag and a batch QR.

ESTIMATED PRICES IN AED, TO CONFIRM AGAINST LANDED COST · RENEWAL = EVERY 60 DAYS

Why the bundles cost what they cost

Three rules set every price: stay above the hypermarket and below the heritage gift box, reward more people per order, and give the deepest saving to the customer who renews.

5%

The Duo stays near full price

It is the entry point and the hero. At AED 85 it sits well above AED 8–24 hypermarket mitts and below a AED 52 heritage soap plus a loofah. A small saving keeps the full-price signal intact.

FLOOR

Every bundle keeps a gross margin above 70% after packaging and freight.

23–28%

Multi-person sets save more

The Pair, The House and Little Reef cost us one delivery and one acquisition for two to four people. We pass part of that saving on, which lifts average order above AED 180.

CEILING

Gift chests price against Izil’s hammam ritual sets at AED 524–600.

20%

Renewal saves again

A renewing customer costs nothing to acquire, and we can forecast the stock. Renewals ship only loofahs and soap, so the saving is on consumables, not on the box.

FOUNDING OFFER

25% off the first Duo only, for the launch list. Never a sitewide sale.

ALL FIGURES ARE ESTIMATES UNTIL THE FIRST LANDED-COST QUOTE

How renewal works

Three ways to buy. The tag on every loofah fades by day 60, so the default delivery comes every 60 days. That is six deliveries a year.

OPTION 1

One-time

Buy once at the full set price. Nothing repeats. A day-50 reminder offers renewal.

The Duo · AED 85

OPTION 2 · RECOMMENDED

Renew as you go

No commitment. Pay per delivery. Choose every 30, 60 or 90 days. Skip, swap soaps, pause or cancel any time before the next ship date.

The Duo · AED 68 per delivery

OPTION 3

The Year of Rituals

Prepay 6 deliveries for 12 months. Best price, a brass soap rest in the first box, and it works as a gift.

The Duo · AED 349 a year ~~408~~

A YEAR ON RENEWAL, EVERY 60 DAYS

Day 0

Full set: loofah, soap, box that becomes a caddy, ritual card

Day 50

WhatsApp: your tag is fading. Skip, swap or keep

Day 60

Refill: fresh loofah and soap only

Day 120

Refill

Day 180–300

Three more refills

Day 360

Renew the year, or move to pay-as-you-go
